Keynote Address

ACA Repeal & Replace: Medicaid on the Line

Ron Pollack, Founding Executive Director, Families USA

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) is in extreme peril as repeal and replace efforts are underway by the new administration. Get an analysis of how these efforts could effect Medicaid beneficiaries and providers across the nation from the founding executive director of one of the nation's leading Medicaid advocacy organizations, Families USA.

The NYAPRS Collective works in partnership with organizational leadership and practitioners to design and deliver services that substantially improve the health, quality of the life and the community integration of people with psychiatric disabilities.

10:30-12Noon

The Impacts of Federal Medicaid Policy Changes on New York's Healthcare Landscape

Kate Breslin, President & CEO, Schuyler Center for Analysis and Advocacy

Chuck Ingolia, Senior Vice President, Public Policy and Practice Improvement, National Council for Behavioral Health

James Lytle, Partner, Manatt, Phelps and Phillips, LLC

Jorge R. Petit, Regional Senior VP of the New York Region, Beacon Health Options

Ron Pollack, Founding Executive Director, Families USA

Facilitator: Bruce Feig, Senior Consultant, Sachs Policy Group

Under the ACA, emphasis on the importance of integrated primary care and the social determinants of health have been the underlying paradigm in reform efforts, and NYS has worked vigorously to position health care and behavioral health providers to best collaborate on these efforts. Now, plans for the repeal and replacement of provisions in the ACA that affect spending and revenues — including the federal subsidies, Medicaid expansion, taxes and mandates that all individuals obtain coverage, and turning control of Medicaid over to the states (block grants) could lead to reductions in care. Hear national and state experts engage in an interactive dialogue on the impact national efforts may have on New York's health and behavioral health system, and more importantly, those we serve.

Lunch

AGENDA Thursday, April 27, 2017

1:00-2:15PM

Concurrent Sessions

A: Innovation in Behavioral Health Integration

Amy Anderson-Winchell, LCSW, President and Chief Executive Officer, Access: Supports for Living, Inc.

Bouakham Rosetti, Project Manager, DSRIP, and MRR Project Lead, Care Compass Network

Stephen T. Williams, Delivery System Reform Incentive Payment (DSRIP) Manager, Brightpoint Health

Facilitator: Edye Schwartz, Director of Systems Transformation, NYAPRS

Addressing behavioral health and physical health issues in a comprehensive, coordinated, and collaborative manner can improve the quality of care and health of the individuals served. Join these panelists as they share integrated care initiatives, collaborative team approaches, lessons learned and success factors that result in better accessibility to services, improved outcomes and overall improvement in care.

B: Readiness for Success in the VBP Environment: Exploring New Strategies and Partnerships

Donna Colonna, CEO, Services for the UnderServed

Dorothy Cucinelli, IPA President, Hudson River United Services

Amy Kohn, CEO, MHA of Westchester and Chair, CBHS

Gary Weiskopf, Associate Commissioner for Managed Care, New York State Office of Mental Health

Hear how providers are working together to best position New York's community organizations to expand as they ready to move toward managed care and a value-based payment system. Providers of all sizes are working collaboratively to leverage the number of individuals served, collaborate on outcomes and share services to improve access to care.

In addition, get the latest information and hear how New York State's set aside of nearly $20 million to assist local health care providers looking to expand or upgrade their facilities may assist behavioral health providers to expand their services / facilities to improve access to care.

2:15-2:30PM

Break with Exhibitors

2:30-3:45PM

Mini-Plenary Sessions

C: Sharing Health Information in the VBP Arena—Strengths and Challenges

Valerie Grey, Executive Director, New York eHealth Collaborative (NYeC)

Charlotte Ostman, Chief Operating Officer, MHA of Westchester

RHIO Representative, TBA

Representative, NetSmart

Facilitator: Harvey Rosenthal, Executive Director, NYAPRS

Hear about how the sharing of personal healthcare information across provider EHR, RHIO and SHINY systems can greatly advance the quality and outcomes of better coordinated and individualized care. We'll also discuss critically important patient privacy and consent related protections that are the subject of state and stakeholder discussions.

D: Embracing Diversity, Advancing Health Equity

Gary Belkin, Executive Deputy Commissioner, New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene

Michael Lindsey, Director, McSilver Institute for Poverty Policy and Research, Constance and Martin Silver Associate Professor of Poverty Studies, New York University Silver School of Social Work

Facilitator: Lenora Reid-Rose, Director, Cultural Competency & Diversity Initiatives, Coordinated Care Services, Inc.

Our presenters will look at strategies to address avoidable health inequities and health disparities, including a review of the major obstacles associated with socio-economic disadvantages and historical and contemporary injustices.

3:45-4:00PM

Break with Exhibitors

1:00-2:15PM

Concurrent Sessions

E: Health Homes: What's Happening, What's Needed

Peggy Elmer, Director, Health Home Policy and Program Development, New York State Department of Health

Paula Fries, Chief Operating Officer, Association for Mental Health and Wellness

Adele Gorges, Executive Director, Health Homes of Upstate New York

Nicole Haggerty, Director, Bureau of Rehabilitation Services and Care Coordination, New York State Office of Mental Health

Facilitator: Harvey Rosenthal, Executive Director, NYAPRS

This session will share innovative strategies health homes and community organizations are implementing to shift toward greater engagement, better care coordination and improved outcomes for those who provide and use services in Health Homes, HARPS, and Home and Community Based Services. The complexities and redundancies in the system, best practices and challenges on how coordinated services may be improved will be shared in a candid, facilitated discussion.

F: Ensuring the Availability of Fidelity-Level Peer Services

Ellen Healion, CEO, Hands Across Long Island

Representative, Mental Health Empowerment Project

Facilitator: Tanya Stevens, Executive Deputy Director, NYAPRS

While the broader behavioral healthcare field has come to fully appreciate the power of peer support, it is critical that peer services reflect the values, service models and level of supervision that are only available from peer-run agencies and programs. The presenters will provide an update on fidelity-level peer innovations and on the peer certification program.

G: Using Outcome Data & Information for Decision Making

Pam Mattel, Chief Operating Officer, Acacia Network

Danika Mills, Executive Director, Coordinated Behavioral Care, Inc.

Robert Myers, Senior Deputy Commissioner & Division Director, Adult Services, State Hospitals and Managed Care, NYS Office of Mental Health

David Wawrzynek, CFO, Spectrum Human Services

Facilitator: Andrew F. Cleek, Executive Director, McSilver Institute for Poverty Policy & Research, NYU Silver School of Social Work

All providers must think about service delivery in a new way and must be able to document and understand the impact of services by not only capturing data but using data to inform business decision making. Hear about how the state will include recovery-focused outcomes in the mix and how agencies have focused their efforts on organizing & collecting data and processing information for decision making to best position their services in an integrated behavioral health performance system.

AGENDA Friday, April 28, 2017

8:45-9:30AM

New York State Healthcare Forecast 2017

Jason Helgeson, New York State Medicaid Director

In the midst of uncertainty at the federal level, New York continues to transform our behavioral health and substance use treatment system despite the many possible changes that await us. Hear from our Medicaid Director as he shares New York's vision, challenges and opportunities on the many moving parts and potential changes affecting service communities as we continue with MRT efforts, assess current progress and future planning for improved performance and advance toward an integrated, value-based health care system.

9:45-10:45AM

Opportunities for CBOs in Advancing DSRIP

Peggy Chan, Director, DSRIP, New York State Department of Health

Robin Kerner, Consultant, Public Consulting Group

Facilitator: Jackie Negri, Principal and Consultant, Negri Management Resources, LLC

Hear an assessment of how regional Performing Provider Systems and area community based behavioral health agencies have engaged each other and about emerging strategies to enhance contracting relationships between the two groups.

10:45-11:00AM

Break

11:00AM-12:30PM

Developing Successful Value Propositions

Joseph Conte, Executive Director, Staten Island Performing Provider System

John Javis, Director of Behavioral Health, Nassau-Queens PPS

Margaret (Peggy) Leonard, Senior Vice President of Clinical Services, MVP Health Care

Aileen Martin, Executive Director, Northern Rivers Initiative and CEO, Healthcare Partners of the North Country

Ian Shaffer, Vice President and Executive Medical Director, Behavioral Health for Healthfirst

Fern Zagor, CEO & President, The Staten Island Mental Health Society

Facilitator: David Woodlock, President & CEO, ICL

Hear from key healthcare stakeholder groups about what they're doing to advance services propositions that best address the needs of beneficiaries, plan and PPS payers and the state in offering quality services that improve outcomes and reduce costs. Panelists will address issues central to defining, measuring, and improving value in an integrated health care delivery system. Panelists will identify the key barriers, share different approaches to obtaining value and outline how behavioral health providers must transform their thinking, marketing and measuring to best meet the needs of their new payers.

12:30PM

Closing Remarks

Harvey Rosenthal, Executive Director, NYAPRS
